

ПРОГРАММА

NATIONAL AND KAPODISTRIAN
UNIVERSITY OF ATHENS

SCHOOL OF PHILOSOPHY

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH
LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

POSTGRADUATE
PROGRAMME
'English Language, Linguistics
and Translation'

SPECIALIZATION
Translation Studies and Interpreting

SYMPOSIUM
*Drakopoulos Amphitheatre, 9.15
22-23 Feb. 2019*

Karen Bennett
Nova University of Lisbon & CETAPS
(Centre for English, Translation and Anglo-Portuguese Studies)

Maria-Eleni Sofra
(Athens Field Officer,
Directorate General for Translation,
European Commission)

TEXTUAL IDENTITIES
THROUGH TRANSLATION

Textual identities through translation

Symposium organized by the 'Translation Studies and Interpreting' Specialization of the MA Programme 'English Language, Linguistics and Translation', Venue: Drakopoulos Amphitheatre, 30 Panepistimiou St.

PROGRAMME

Friday 22 February

8:30-9:15	REGISTRATION
9.15-9:30	Welcoming address: Prof. Eleni Karamalengou (Dean of the School of Philosophy) Prof. Maria Sidiropoulou (Chair of the Department of English Language and Literature) Prof. Elli Ifantidou (MA Programme Director)
	SESSION 1. Chair: Anna Hatzidaki
9:30-10:30	Karen Bennett (Keynote Lecture) Beyond Epistemicide: Translating Knowledge in the Multilingual Paradigm
10:30-11.00	Maria Sidiropoulou Im/politeness in Translating Academic Discourse
11.00-11:30	Christina Karakepeli Power and Distance in Constitutional Discourse: An intercultural perspective
11:30-12:00	Coffee break
	SESSION 2. Chair: Nick Gogonas
12:00-12:30	Maria-Nikoleta Blana Mask and Face: Im/politeness in stage translations of Mourning Becomes Electra
12:30-13:00	Chrysi Mavrigiannaki Impoliteness, Gender and Power Distance in Greek target versions of Lady Windermere's Fan
13:0-13.30	Aristea Rigalou Blaming, Critique and Irritation in the Family, through Translation
	End of Day 1

Saturday 23 February

	SESSION 3. Chair: Ada Korda
9:30-10:00	Maria Lamprou Aggression and Narrative in Edward Albee's The Zoo Story
10:00-10:30	Natalia Skrepou Leadership Construction through Translated Im/politeness Strategies
10:30-11:00	Christina-Styliani Pollali Patriarchal voices and Im/politeness through Stage Translation
11:00-11:30	Eirini Stamouli Who's Afraid of Aggression: Gender through translation
11:30-12:00	Coffee break
	SESSION 4. Chair: Effie Fragkou
12:00-12:30	Erasmia Perdiki Connectedness and Separateness as Cross-/Intra-cultural Indicators in Dubbing
12:30-13:30	Maria-Eleni Sofra (Keynote Lecture, in Greek) Μεταφράζοντας για την Ευρωπαϊκή Επιτροπή
13.30-13.45	Closing off
	End of Day 2

ABOUT THE SYMPOSIUM

The Symposium deals with how textual identities may be shifting through translation, in 'monologic' discourses (e.g. academic, constitutional discourses) and in 'dialogic' translated genres like stage translation and film dubbing. It focuses on manifestations of im/politeness and on how they may shift across source and target versions of texts, highlighting intercultural variation, or across retranslations of a source text, manifesting intra-cultural variation in the use of im/politeness.

Im/politeness has been studied in monolingual discourse, and scholarship does not seem to have appreciated the potential of translation practice to contribute to the study of im/politeness. The papers tease out some of the benefits of studying im/politeness through translation practice. Researchers hope to show another arena where im/politeness can be fruitfully explored. They also hope to account for preferable options in translation practice, in terms of im/politeness models and strategies.

It was not done on purpose, but almost all of the stage translation papers, in this symposium, make use of a stage version by Errikos Belies (1950–2016), a graduate of this Department and a highly experienced translator, who has supported every translation project, in this Department, in any way possible. The Symposium is dedicated to the memory of Errikos Belies.

Errikos Belies